Q.2 : Read the following passages and then answer the question given below -

Music rejuvenates the mind. When music therapy is combined with other relaxation techniques based on guided imagery, it reduces depression, pain and anxiety. Fibromyalgia is a condition that causes pain, stiffness and tenderness of the muscles, tendons and joints. In such a condition music improves sleep.

Researchers used relaxation techniques based on guided imagery and music therapy for treatment of patients. They were given a CD each which they could listen to at home. Then the researchers measured the different symptoms associated with fibromyalgia like intensity of pain, quality of life, sleep disorders and others. The patients showed positive improvement in their condition. This reveals that the art of relaxation and receptive music therapy are effected to a great extent.
